STEAM HOODS

Steam hoods will remove excess steam from your sugarhouse and are important add-ons for use with a preheater or steam-away unit. They are manufactured to your specification to fit your flue or syrup pans. Flue pan hoods are made to fit the full width of your flue pan and can be made to be tight fitting or suspended. Syrup pan hoods can be ordered full width or ¾ width to leave your finishing section exposed. Both are available in aluminum or stainless steel. Hoods come standard with a centered thimble and one hinged door on each side. Changes to the thimble and/or door location can be customized for an additional fee.

Stainless hoods also have a condensation channel, or drip edge, around the inside bottom edge of the hood to catch water run-off from condensation. A threaded coupling attached at one end of the channel lets you plumb to the hood for easy water removal.

Hood prices do not include stack. Stack is available in 3' sections. Order enough stack to clear your sugarhouse roof peak.
